Types of Questions?

- Types of questioning techniques
- 1)Experience questions:
- The main purpose of this type of question is to place objective measurements on features of your background
- eg: What is your C.G.P.A.? How long were you at…?
- 2)Credential questions:
- This type of question aims at subjectively evaluating features of your background .
- eg: What did you learn in your network programming class? What were your responsibilities in that position?
- 3)opinion questions:
- This type aims at analyzing subjectively how you would respond in a series of scenarios.
- egs: What would you do in this situation? What are your strengths and weaknesses?

Types of Questions?

- 4)dumb questions:
- These questions are asked to find out if you are capable of an original thought.
- eg: Can you sell this pen to me in one minute? What kind of animal would you like to be?
- 5)Behavioral questions:
- It is to anticipate(predict) future responses based upon your past behaviour.
- eg: Can you give a specific example of how you did that ?
- 6)difficult questions
- As the interviewers have to establish the weaknesses as well as strengths of each candidate.
- Eg: If you were the interviewer what question you would have asked

ii) Answering Techniques

- i)Behavioral Answering Technique:
- Talk about how you had done rather than how you would do
- Be prepared to use examples from your work, classes , and extracurricular activities ,give your own examples.
- ii)Compelling Story Technique:
- Expand your answers into compelling stories with personality , flair , and interest
- Provide details and nuances that bring story to life
- Do not get into too lengthy monologues
- iii)Personality Matching Technique:
- Take cue from the interviewer in terms of tone and approach.
- Do not be casual even if the interviewer seems to be.
- Bring under control the 'too much' area (too loud, too pushy, too cocky , too egoistic etc.)

Answering Technique

iv)Parroting Technique:

- Do not assume or 'make a best guess'
- If a question is unclear to you , it is appropriate to ' parrot back' the question in your own words to get the correct meaning.
- Use it as a temporary stall when you do not have a ready answer.

v)Reframing Technique:

- Always attempt to answer the question as straightforwardly as possible
- Reframe the original question to illustrate an area of your background.
- vi)Abraham Lincoln Technique
- Point to your strengths instead of making excuses for shortcomings.
- First speak about your grades , work experience, extracurricular activities etc. and the tell why you are lacking in a particular area.
- Then establish your own case
- Abraham Lincoln , usually argued both the sides of the case to the jury.
